

What Is Socially Responsible Investing and Why Does It Matter?

The Investment in Ministry Fund (IMF) is invested in the ELCA's Ministry Growth Fund, a fund that is guided by socially responsible investment strategies. Socially responsible investing aims to generate both social change and financial returns for its investors. These investments can include companies making a positive sustainable or social impact, such as a solar energy company, and exclude those companies making a negative impact.

The Corporate Social Responsibility Program of the ELCA seeks to enter into dialogue with business representatives on the social implications of company practices and to affect ELCA investment policy in socially responsible ways. The ELCA calls its people and institutions to encourage corporations to act in socially responsible ways and to invest in alignment with ELCA priorities.

Social purpose funds are able to screen out companies whose business practices conflict with these ELCA social criteria. The ELCA Ministry Growth Fund screens out companies associated with alcohol, tobacco, gambling, military weapons, pornography, private prisons, environment, and political and civil human rights.

We have chosen the ELCA Ministry Growth Fund to invest the funds donated to the IMF because of its focus to support the ideals of our Lutheran theology.
