Wednesday, April 9, 2025

On Wednesdays in Lent, we gather to be fed with music, with word, and if you come at 6 pm with soup! The primary text during each service will be a Psalm of lament. These Psalms help us to remember the language our ancestors in faith have taught us about giving voice to our longings for God's new life and remind us that no feeling lies beyond God's desire to hear.

PSALM 141

(Group I – Women; Group II – Men)

PRAYER

O God, rich in mercy, full of kindness, out of your great love, you raise us up from sin and death and make us alive together with Christ. Write your word upon our hearts and restore in us the image of your love that, by your Spirit, our way of life may become the way of Christ, through whom we pray.

Amen.

LAMENT AND REFLECTION

Laments make up roughly one-third of the Book of Psalms, though they rarely appear in our regular worship readings. The language of lament contained in the Psalms provides a guide for us to pray to God about the sadness, anger, disillusionment, disappointment, grief, and despair we feel over our lives and the world. In other words, when we lament, we name the wilderness we are experiencing – individually or collectively – trusting that God hears us.

PSALM 10

SILENCE FOR REFLECTION

A bell will mark the beginning and end of this time of silence. During this time, you are invited to reflect on the portion of the Psalm that is part of worship tonight and to name before God a situation of lament in your life or the world.
